Towards the Unification of Policing Innovations Under Community Policing
Community Policing in the 1980s, becomes more prevalent starting in the mid-1990s;

More than $13 billion investment to more than 13,000 agencies

COPS focus on problem-solving and specific goals aligned to community issues
Community policing is a philosophy that promotes organizational strategies, which support the systematic use of partnerships and problem solving techniques, to proactively address the immediate conditions that give rise to public safety issues, such as crime, social disorder, and fear of crime.
Community Partnerships
Collaborative partnerships is about building relationships to develop solutions to problems and increase trust in police.

- Quality and accuracy of data
Problem Solving
Engaging in the proactive identification and examination of problems to develop effective responses that are rigorously evaluated.

- Scanning: Identifying and prioritizing problems
- Analysis: Analyzing problems
- Response: Responding to problems
- Assessment: Assessing problem solving initiatives
- Using the Crime Triangle to focus on immediate conditions (Victim/Offender/Location)

Compatibility with community policing philosophy

Innovations have a narrow focus on a specific aspect of police business

Value added if developed in concert with existing philosophies rather than as a stand alone or in isolation

Community Policing philosophy is broader, can use routine patrol for problem identification, outreach, police visibility, reduce fear of crime

Effective policing requires collaboration
“A collaborative law enforcement approach combining problem-solving policing, information sharing, and police accountability, with enhanced intelligence operations.”
ILP is executive implementation of the intelligence cycle to support proactive decision making for resource allocation and crime prevention. In order to successfully implement this business process, police executives must have clearly defined priorities as part of their policing strategy.”
Partnerships lead to:
• Better information upon which analysis can be based
• Crime/Terrorism Prevention and Reduction Strategies
• Improved sharing of information and intelligence to solve problems
