SURVEYING CRIME IN THE 21ST CENTURY:
Commemorating the 25th Anniversary of the British Crime Survey

Mike Hough
and Mike Maxfield
editors

Crime Prevention Studies
Volume 22

Criminal Justice Press
Monsey, NY, U.S.A.

Willan Publishing
Cullompton, Devon, U.K.

2007
CRIME PREVENTION STUDIES

Ronald V. Clarke, Series Editor

Crime Prevention Studies is an international book series dedicated to research on situational crime prevention and other initiatives to reduce opportunities for crime. Most volumes center on particular topics chosen by expert guest editors. The editors of each volume, in consultation with the series editor, commission the papers to be published and select peer reviewers.

*   *   *

Volume 1, edited by Ronald V. Clarke, 1993.

Volume 3, edited by Ronald V. Clarke, 1994 (out of print).

continued

Contents

Acknowledgements vii
Foreword ix
Ronald V. Clarke

1. Introduction 1
   Mike Hough and Mike Maxfield

2. British Crime Survey After 25 Years 7
   Mike Hough, Mike Maxfield, Bob Morris, and Jon Simmons

3. The Sting in the Tail of the British Crime Survey: Multiple Victimization 33
   Graham Farrell and Ken Pease

4. Understanding the Link Between Victimization and Offending: New Reflections on an Old Idea 55
   Janet L. Lauritsen and John H. Laub

5. Development and Key Results From the First Two Waves of the Offending Crime and Justice Survey 77
   David Matz

   Tim Hope

   Jan van Dijk
Acknowledgements

This volume is the product of a conference held at Cumberland Lodge, Windsor, in October 2006. Various thanks are due to those who made the conference possible, and to those who helped turn a collection of conference articles into a book.

We are very grateful to the Home Office and to Rutgers University for providing financial support for the conference and for the editorial work in producing the book. The British Crime Survey team was a pleasure to work with, and we are particularly grateful to Sian Nicholas, Maya Kara, and Alison Walker for their efforts in organizing the conference and for their helpful comments in the editorial process. Special thanks are also due to Ron Clarke for his consistently helpful advice and support throughout the process of planning the conference and editing the book.

We would like to thank Lesley Jenkins and Sian Turner of ICPR for their administrative support in organizing the conference and the staff of Cumberland Lodge for their hospitality throughout the conference.

Mike Hough
Mike Maxfield

London and Newark
April 2007